InsurBanc Talks Succession Planning

InsurBanc's Robert Pettinicchi was recently interviewed in an article for Property Casualty 360. The article discusses how to get prepared for the future and start formulating a plan for succession. Whether you are moving on from your insurance agency, going into retirement, or going into another business, a strong succession plan is key to setting up your agency for success after you have left or getting a fair price if you choose to sell.
