Make the Most of Modular Design

What comes to mind when you think of Swedish furniture behemoth IKEA? Perhaps it’s frustration (who hasn’t spent hours more assembling a "simple" desk or table with that tiny Allen wrench?) or value (college students nationwide are preparing to spend the school year passing out on MINNESUNDS and MEISTERVERKS). Or perhaps you associate Ikea with their modular designs that allow consumers to mix and match sofa pieces, kitchen cupboards, shelving and more to create the right fit for their interiors.

The benefit of modular design is that you can create your own combination, and with insurance, a modular approach can save your client money, too. The insured doesn't need to purchase coverage they don't need but can add it later as their needs change. You can even choose just one module.

Travelers Wrap+ for Executive Liability for Private Companies’ modular approach allows you to customize coverage for your clients now and in the future.
